Thank you to everyone who took part in the 2015 NPHIC Awards for Excellence in Public Health Communications competition. The quality of this year’s entries demonstrates the tremendous skills of NPHIC members and also their willingness to share their best work to amplify public health messages. We especially thank our Grady College judges, who had the difficult task of determining the winners. Sincere congratulations to each of the 2015 awardees, and to all of the participants for once again “Making Public Health Public!”
